Enhancing the quality of life

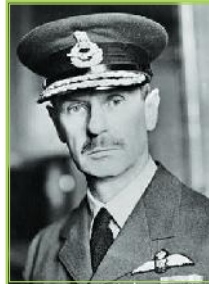

Open Afternoon

Join St. Luke's and Bentley Priory Battle of Britain Trust for a wonderful 1940's afternoon. Enjoy afternoon tea on the lawn, and listen to the nostalgic music of military, brass and steel pan bands.

There will be pre-booked tours of the historic Bentley Priory throughout the day. Walk through the halls of historic Bentley Priory, headquarters of Fighter Command. Visit the office of Air Chief Marshal Hugh Dowding commander of RAF Fighter Command during the Battle of Britain.

Watch an amazing Spitfire air display performed by the Battle of Britain Memorial Trust (weather dependant), as well as an aviation and military art exhibition by Aces High fine art gallery.

Enjoy re-enactment displays and the Harrow at War exhibition. Take part in dancing the lindy hop and learn to Swing, Jive and boogie.

Let the kids experience the 1940's by taking part in our workshops and activities as well as lots more on the day.

Evening Swing Night

A great chance to enjoy a summer evening at this historic venue which is rarely open to the public. Relax on the terrace with panoramic views of London or enjoy a drink in the officer's mess before a two course dinner and dancing to the sounds of Gregg McCann and The Hands of Jazz swing band. The evening will include forties dance displays and an art exhibition, as well as forties music from the Apollo Male Voice Choir.
